Demolition of Aurangzeb's 17th-Century 'Mubarak Manzil' in Agra

- Agra, home to the iconic Taj Mahal, also houses the 17th-century Mughal-built 'Mubarak Manzil,' believed to have been constructed by Aurangzeb.
- This palace served as a residence for prominent figures during the Mughal era. In 1902, the British renovated it for administrative purposes, renaming it 'Tara Nivas.'
- Recently, a notification was issued by the Uttar Pradesh Archaeology Department to declare it a protected monument.

What Is HMPV?

- Human Metapneumovirus (HMPV) is a respiratory infection affecting children, the elderly, and those with weak immunity. First identified in 2001, it has no vaccine.
- The virus spreads through droplets from coughs, sneezes, or contact with contaminated surfaces.

Preventive Measures:

- Wearing masks.
- Maintaining social distance.
- Washing hands with soap.

Symptoms:

- Fever, cough, nasal congestion, and difficulty breathing. Severe cases may lead to pneumonia.

Isolation:

- Affected individuals should isolate for 3-6 days.
